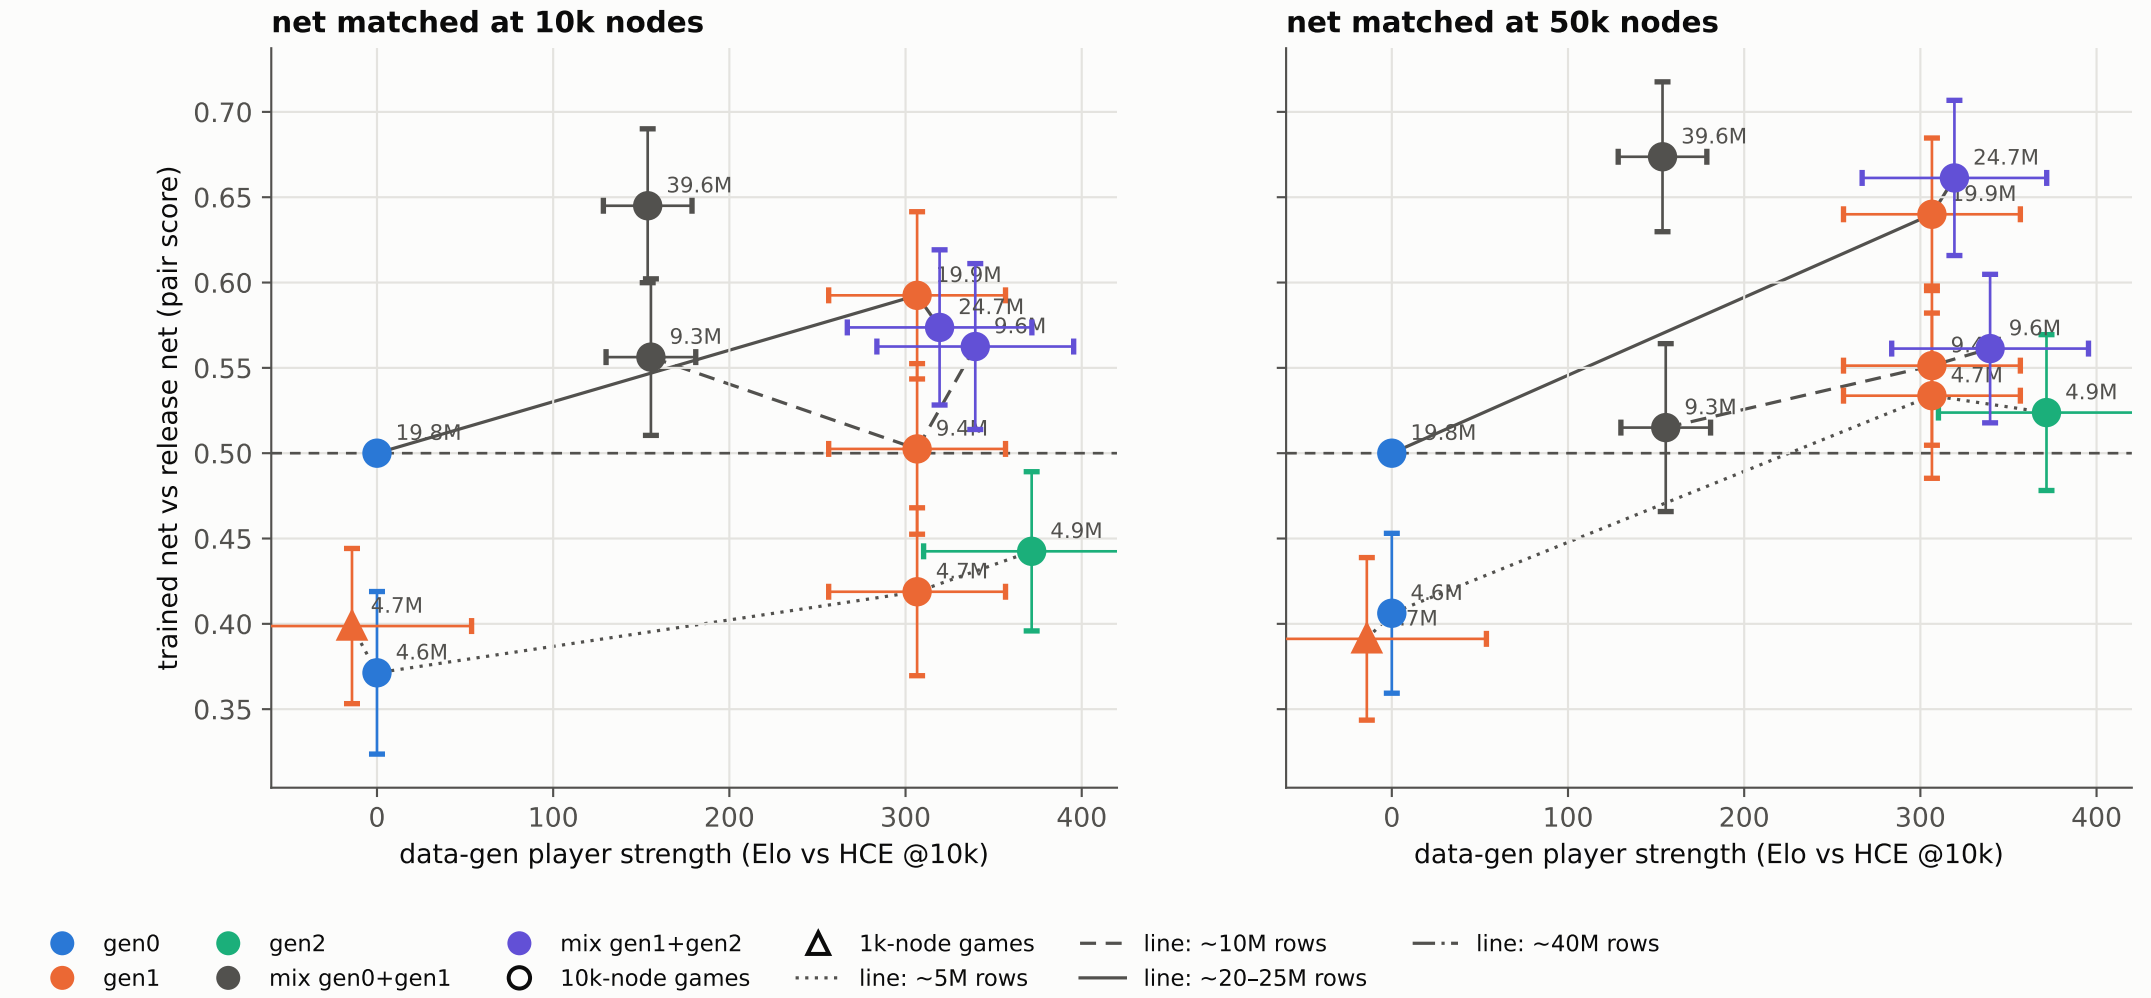
Data quality and data size together



Moving along a line = better data at the same size; moving between lines = more data. Labels = training rows. Mixes use the row-weighted average player. Hollow = from the rating fit.